Curriculum

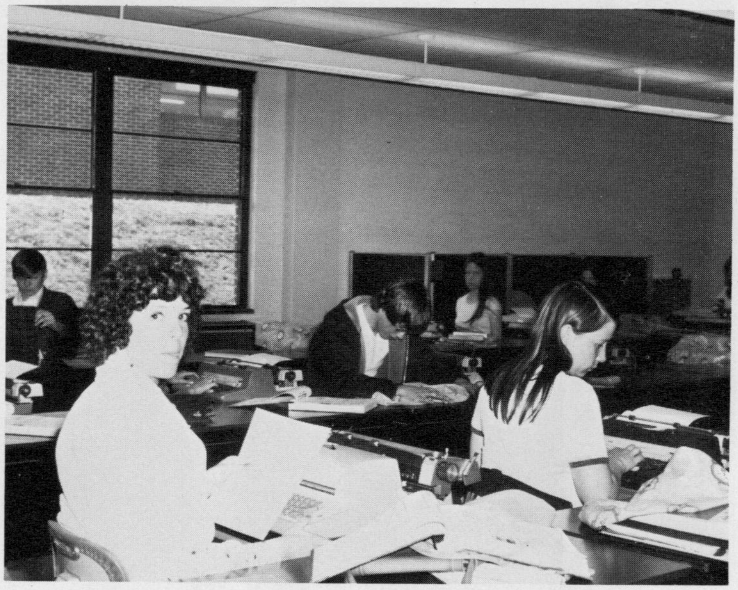

VOCATIONAL CLASSES

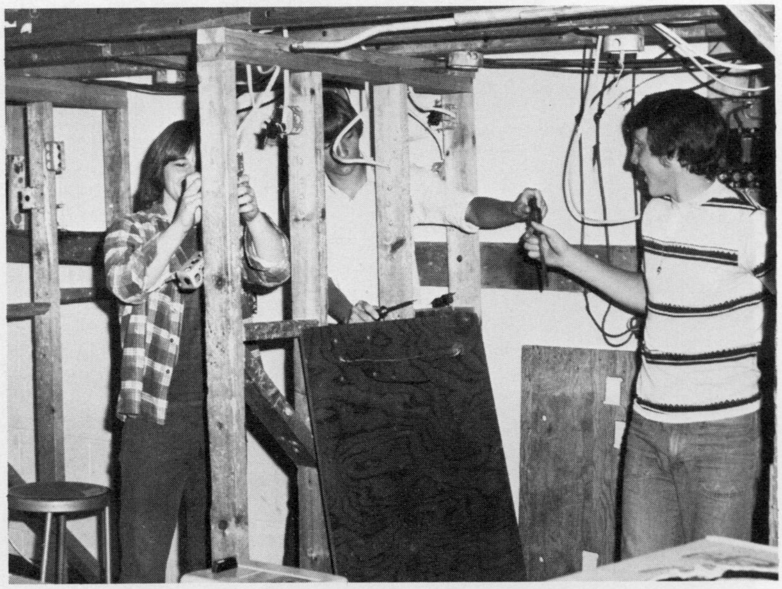

Boys Home Economics is being taught at P.C.H.S. for the first time. They learn how to prepare foods, sew, and other things that they need to know when they leave school. Commerical Foods, Commerical Sewing, and Home Economics I and II are taught also. Girls take these classes but in the years to come maybe some boys will take them also.

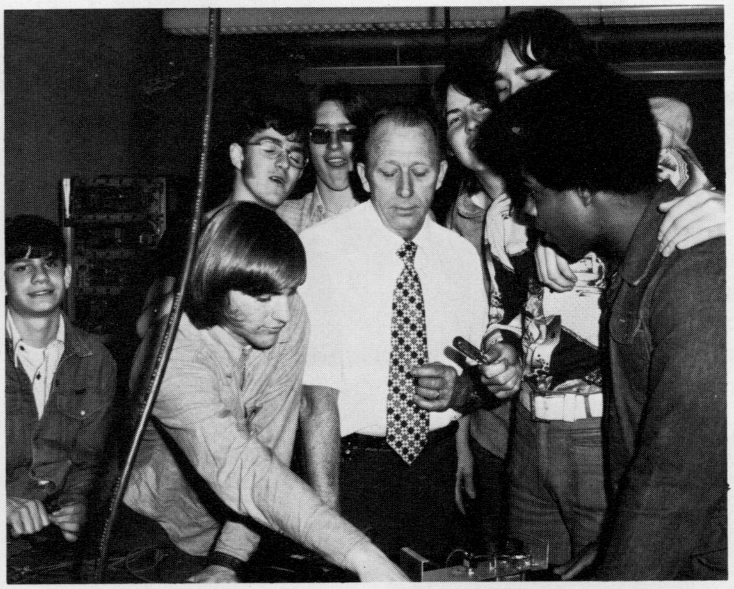

Typing is a very popular subject at P.C.H.S. Students of all grades may take this class. Secretarial Block, Clerical Block, and Bookkeeping, are also taught for students who are interested in later secretarial jobs.

Electricity and Electronics are each three hour block classes. Electricity helps the student to wire a complete house under the National Electric Code when they finish the class. In electronics the boys repair radios, televisions, clocks, and small motors so that they may be able to fix things around their own home some day instead of having to depend on someone else and the class is also for a job in their future.

Building and Maintenance is a three hour block class. The boys make different articles from doghouses to houses for people. This is the second year building and maintenance has been taught at this school and seems to be a favorite of many boys.

Another vocational class at P.C.H.S. is agricultural science. This class studies the plants and animals. It is made up of boys and girls who are interested in farming or animals. They also make equipment for farming such as hay wagons and feeding boxes.

Welding is a very worthwhile class to be involved in. The boys can earn a welding certification certificate then when they are ready to leave school they can get a good paying job.

ACADEMIC

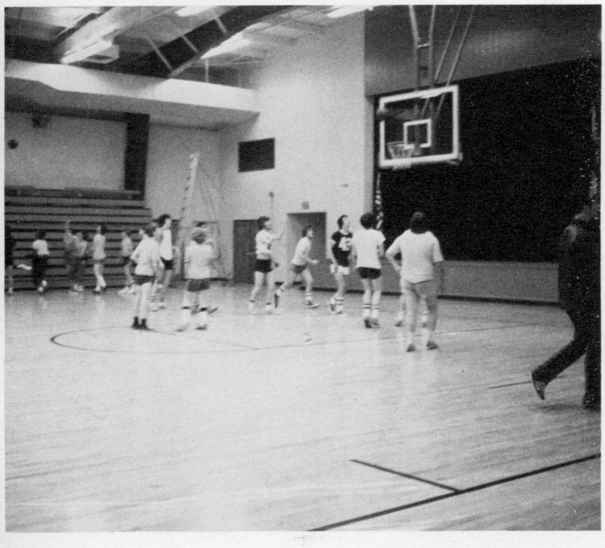

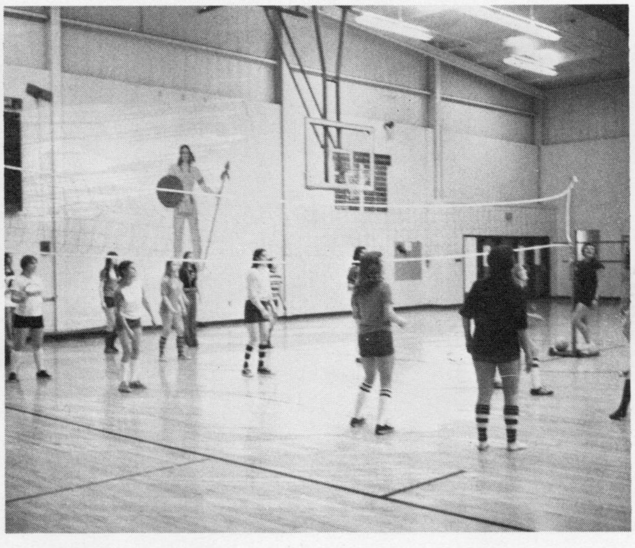

Biology, the study of plant and animal life, is a required subject for sophomores. Students do different experiments with the plants and animals.

Chemistry, Physics, and Physical Science are also science classes which are taught at P.C.H.S. College bound students are required to take at least two different types of science classes and should try to take more if they can.

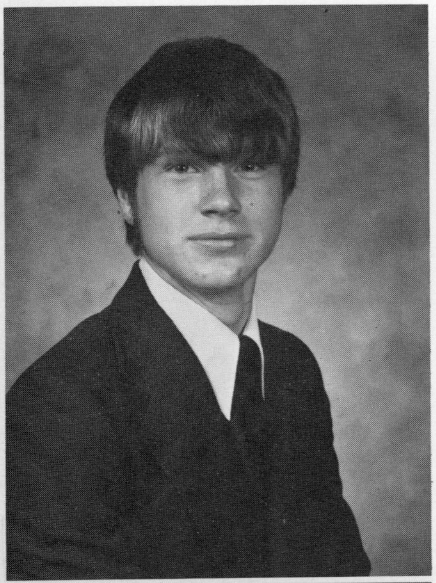

Physical Education is a requirement of all freshmen but other students take the subject so they can stay in good shape and for the enjoyment. The boys and girls have many different activities which they participate including volleyball, soccer, basketball, football, hockey, softball, wrestling, archery, bowling, using the weight machines, and using the gymnastic equipment.

Imagine, if you will, a town made up entirely of the 1976 graduating class of Pocahontas County High School. The name of our town is Yew Nork, a progressing small town, striving to meet the needs of its citizens. So, with all this in mind lets take a trip through our town and see what people are up to. First, a stop at Town Hall, where we are greeted at the door by Larry Holson, the doorman. Once inside we pass the recorders office, occupied by Bill Hill and his hard working secretary, Becky Grimes. Continuing down the corridor, we are advised by the janitor, Steve Hefner, to walk softly over his recently polished floor, and Sheriff Danny Hatton tells us where the speed traps are today. Yew Norks accountant, Marilyn Gum says that Mayor Dick Hickman is in a tizzy today over the towns financial situation. The town council, consisting of Rick Harper, (Chairman), Butch Gum, Erma Grimes, Kitty Galford, Mike Dunbrack, and Greg Curry are in session, planning who knows what for what occasion.

Leaving the courthouse we are taken by Tom Boothe's Taxi Service to tour the streets of Yew Nork. First, we come to the car wash, owned and operated by Kathy Burks, Karen Cauley, and Anita Crist. Next, to the Yew Nork National Bank, owned by Diane Buchanon, with her tellers and most trusted friends, Sandy Triplett, Marshall Hoover, and Virginia Cloonan. After leaving the bank we travel two doors down the street to the gymnasium, where a host of characters can be found doing just about anything. Such as: Tom Arbogast, Adam Bond and John Evans working out on the bench press, with Debra Grimes waiting in line. Jimmie Cutlip, who is coaching instructor here is showing David Jonese and Jim Ryder how to execute a perfect lay up. Working out on the trampoline is Geraldine Mace and Cathy Martin.

Now, down a back street to one of the towns taverns, this one operated by Faye Matheny and Steve McCarty with their bouncer Price Barlow, and their barmaids Allison Becker and Ann Johnson. Among local customers, we see Debby Scott, Karen Kellison and Mary Jane Oref.

Next door is the Barber Shop, with its two owners, Forrest Mullenax and Randy McPaters. Now, on to our discount gas station owned by Pat McLaughlin, and operated by Bruce Carr, Sugar Cain and Frank Barrett as mechanics. After a quick stop at the Yew Nork Diners Club, owned by Emery Grimes, we continue on to the dentist office where we find Debby Bennett, Eugene Carpenter, Doug Colaw and Bonnie Auldridge, all just aching to see Dr. D. C. Gum. Over the dentist office where we find the Yew Nork Free Library, where Kathy Richmond, librarian, is trying to stifle a disturbance with Steve McCoy and Paul Kessler, and doing a good job of it too.

On the street once again we pass the Radio Station WWWW, where Alan Wright spins the latest hits, and where Priscilla Tincher gives the news. On now to the Save-A-Lot Department Store, a chain store, whose owners are Brad and Paula Thomas. Here we see salespersons Jeanie Irvine and Dale Long doing respectfully at their posts. Next, we come to Yew Nork High School, as we see Principal Susan Kershner trying to cope with unruly students and teachers. There seems to have been some disturbance over an unknown object found in someone's soup at the cafeteria, where the chef is George Thomas, and his cooks are John Walker and Christine Taylor and Emma Young. Passing on through the town, we see Johnny Totten pulled to the side of the road unbending his fender, while Deputy Sheriff Terry Van Reenan looks at the pole he just hit and estimates damages. Next, to Doctor Charles Wilfong's residence where he and his wife are entertaining guests, Jeff Shaw, Annette Shifflett, Mike Totten, and Larry Offut. Down the street we find Lee Good and Donald Pritt waiting on a bus in front of the Hotel de Yew Nork, owned by Kris Kuhlken. Randall Nottingham and Johnny Puffenbarger are his bell boys and Jan Millican is his clerk. In the lobby we find Chris Mullens registering under an assumed name. Now, for a visit to the optomerist, Jan Rosencrance, we find Debby Varela and Robert McClure fumbling for a chair as Janetta Williams tries to keep her cool as receptionist. Continuing on to the New and Used Car Lot, we see Jeff Weiford trying to get a price reduction out of Sherry Wyatt, who owns the place, while Alberta Varner makes off with a beaut' of a 43 Chrysler. Next, we come to the Yew Nork Cafe, owned by Sally Lambert and managed by Carolyn McLaughlin. It has Gloria Moats and Linda Shue as waitresses. One of our few remaining stops is the hospital where Drs. Mike McLaughlin, Gary Taylor and Karen Scott, take on an overload of patients including Joe McMillion, in because of a Honda wreck; Mary Ann Lightner, suffering from an unknown ailment; Mildred Ryder, recovering from tonsilectomy, and George Sewell, who is in for a busted eardrum from playing his guitar too loud. But, the good doctors have plenty of help from Nurse Rachael Taylor and aide Debbie Sharp. Next stop, Yew Nork International Airport where ticket agents Earl Sharp and Leona Sharp, are selling one way tickets to nowhere to Diana Simmons and Kenny Thompson, while pilot Ed Turner and co-pilot David Stanley make final preparations for take off. Meanwhile, the stewardesses, Mary Taylor, Sandy Woods, and Mary Vandevender prepare stiff drinks for Harrison Varner, who is trying his skills at wing walking on this trip. Well, you've had a look at our town. How do you like it? Think it's impossible, Maybe so, but, impossible or not, our town had all the necessary ingredients to make it except possibly the name Yew Nork.

1/ Call of the Minutemen prior to the historic Battle of Lexington.
2/ The Battle of Concord Bridge was the first battle of the war.
3/ Monument to the Minutemen which stands on the site of the Battle of Lexington, where "the shot heard round the world" was fired April 19, 1775.
4/ The signing of the Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776.
5/ Independence Hall, Philadelphia, where the Continental Congress convened to decide a course of action.
6/ Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson working to revise Jefferson's draft of the Declaration of Independence.

DEDICATION

We would like to dedicate our 1976 Warrior Yearbook to the memory of one of the finest teachers ever to teach in Pocahontas County. Mr. Sidney Goodwyn, a native of Pocahontas County, served our youth, for over 35 years. Mr. Goodwyn took pride in our children, had dreams for them, and sacrificed of himself for them. Through Mr. Goodwyn many people both students and colleagues became aware of what living is.

Randall Lewis

"Stand Your Ground . . . If They Mean to Have a War, Let It Begin Here."

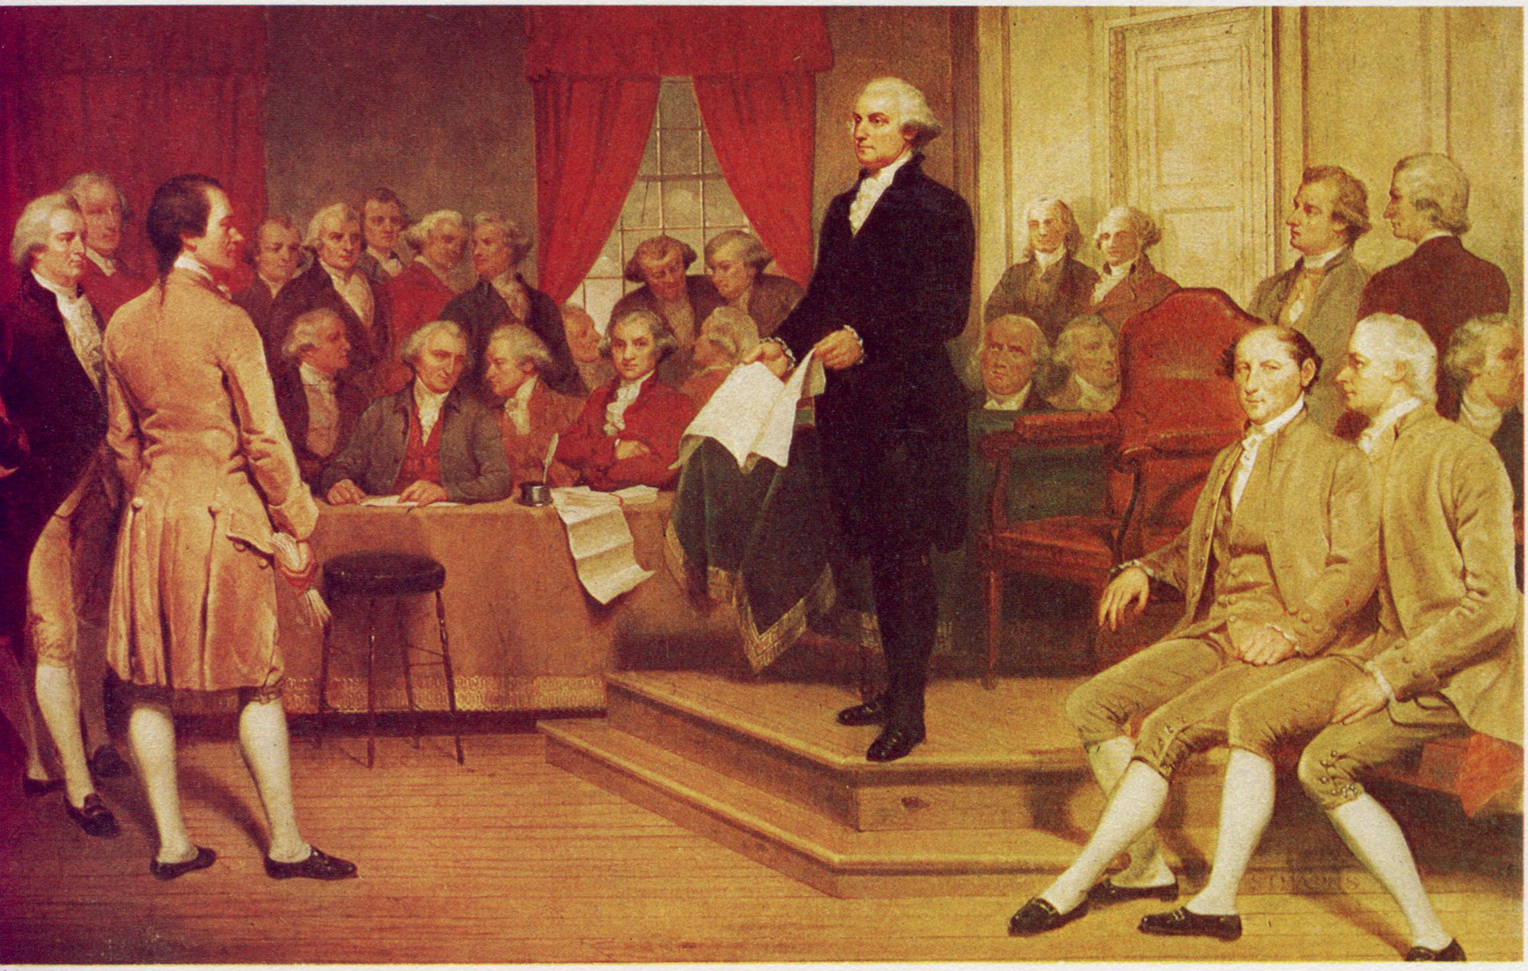

Capt. John Parker

1/ Capt. John Parker uttered those words as the colonial militia under his command prepared to meet the British troops at Lexington. Those works and the painting—Spirit of '76—exemplify the dedication and determination of the American patriots in their fight for independence. The colonies had organized to express their grievances in an effort to resolve the differences within the framework of the Empire. Several of the colonial legislatures had instructed their delegates to the Continental Congress in Philadelphia to oppose any move toward independence. The movement for independence was gaining strength and following the publication of Thomas Paine's Common Sense, which argued for colonial sovereignty, a resolution was adopted and a committee of five appointed to draft a declaration of independence.
2/ General Washington, who had been appointed commander-in-chief of American forces by the Second Continental Congress, was a brilliant military strategist. It was his decision to take his Continentals across the Delaware River on Christmas night which resulted in the first major colonial victory. That victory at Trenton over Hessian mercenaries gave the ragged army renewed vigor. Supported chiefly through the printing of Continental currency, the colonial army also went through the personal fortunes of many American patriots—among them Washington, Jefferson, Richard Henry Lee and John Adams. These fortunes were donated to the cause of liberty—a cause supported by about one-third of the American population which was near 2,000,000. Another one-third remained loyal to the English crown and the remainder were apathetic. Despite many defeats, the colonies managed to keep an army in the field as a symbol of American resistance, to guarantee a negotiated rather than dictated peace.

1

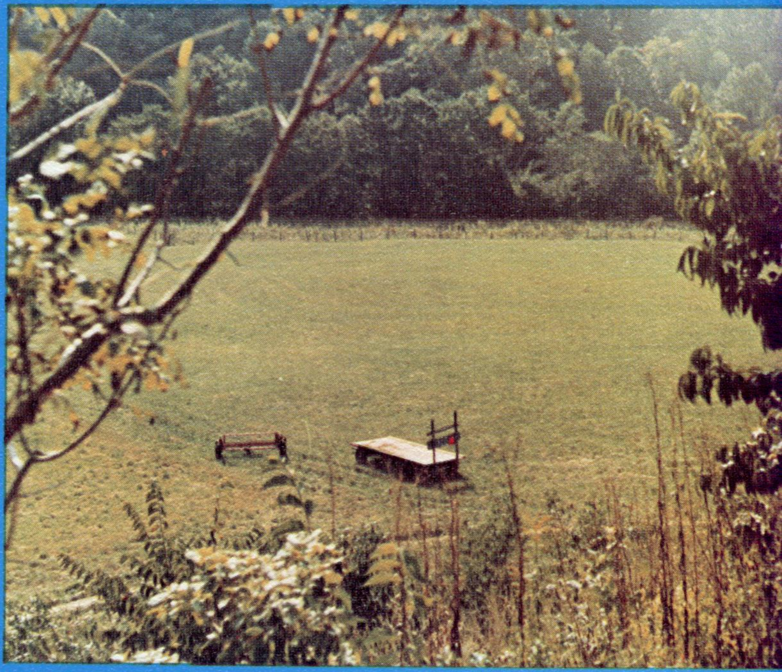

". . . Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death!"

Patrick Henry

3/ Following the victory at Yorktown, Washington refused the offer of his troops to become king and returned to Philadelphia to aid with the establishment of a permanent government for the new republic—a loose alliance of sovereign states held together by the Articles of Confederation. An envoy composed of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and John Jay was sent to negotiate with the British. It was not until 1783 that the peace agreement, known as the Treaty of Paris, was signed, guaranteeing the sovereignty of the United States of America. The Articles of Confederation, despite many weaknesses, served to unify the states until 1787 when a special convention was held at Independence Hall in Philadelphia to revise them. The meeting was attended by fifty-five of the most-prominent men of the day. Twenty-nine of the delegates representing a majority of the states met on May 25 and decided to draft an entirely new constitution rather than ammend the Articles of Confederation. The meeting then became known as the Constitutional Convention.

4/ The men who assembled for the Constitutional Convention were an illustrious group with nearly every delegate a person of prominence in his home state. A large majority favored a strong central government. After four months of debate, on September 17, 1787, the new constitution was completed. In a little more than four months, six states had ratified the new constitution. Despite the good beginning, the fight for ratification was bitter and it was not until September 13, 1788, that the necessary two-thirds majority of the states had approved the document and Congress could call for states to choose their electors and congressmen. Several of the states had ratified the constitution with the provision that it would be amended. Thus, as one of its first official acts under the new constitution, the Congress added the first ten amendments known as the Bill of Rights. Washington was unanimously elected President and a new nation was launched on a course of democracy.

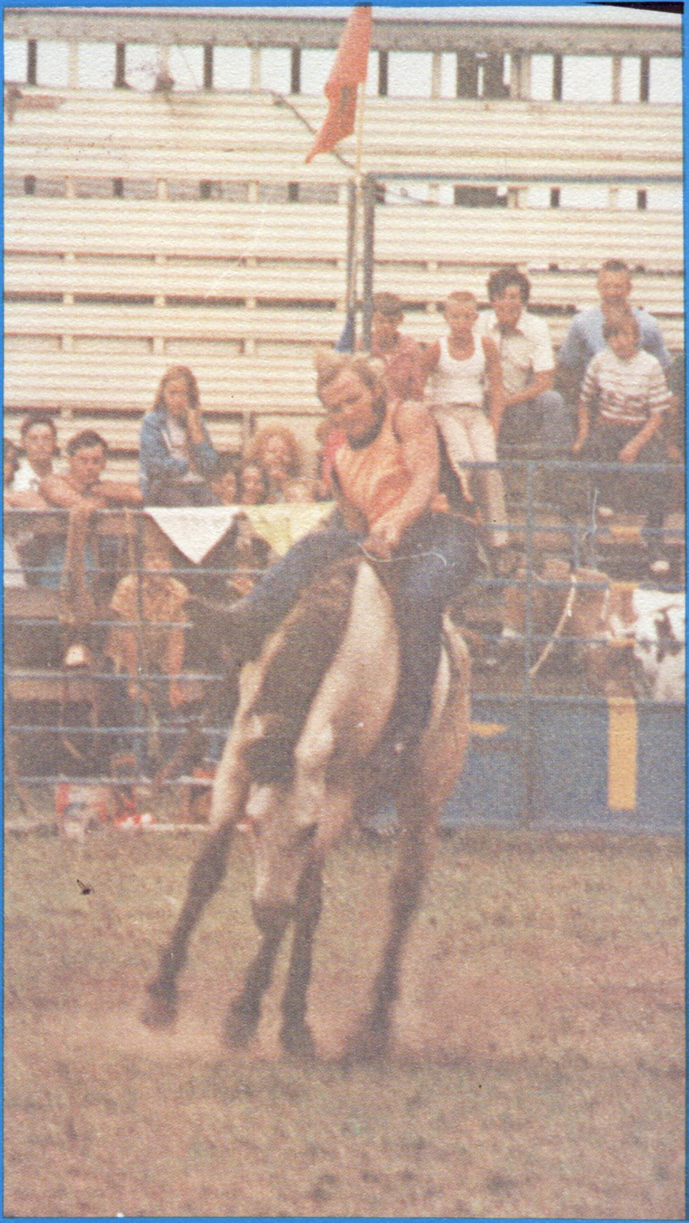

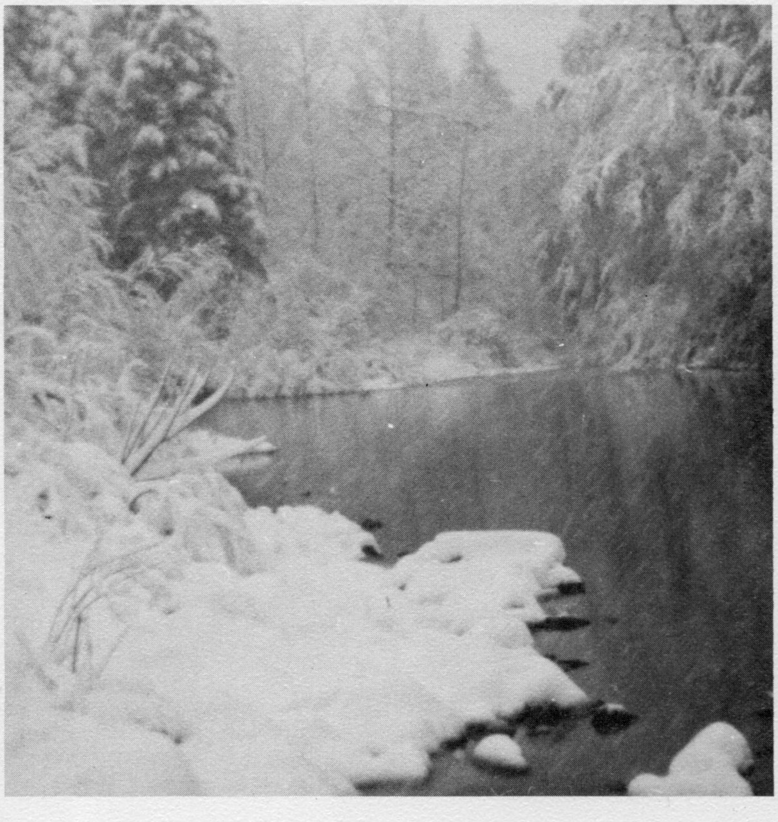

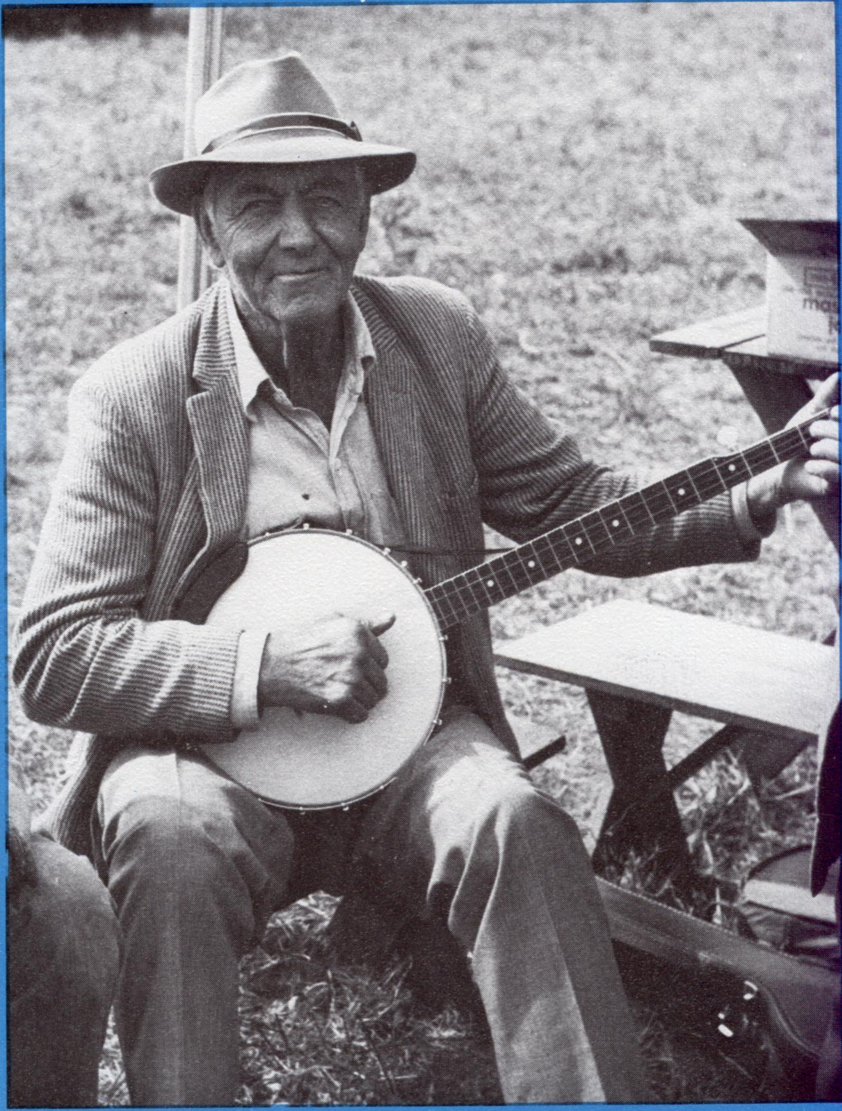

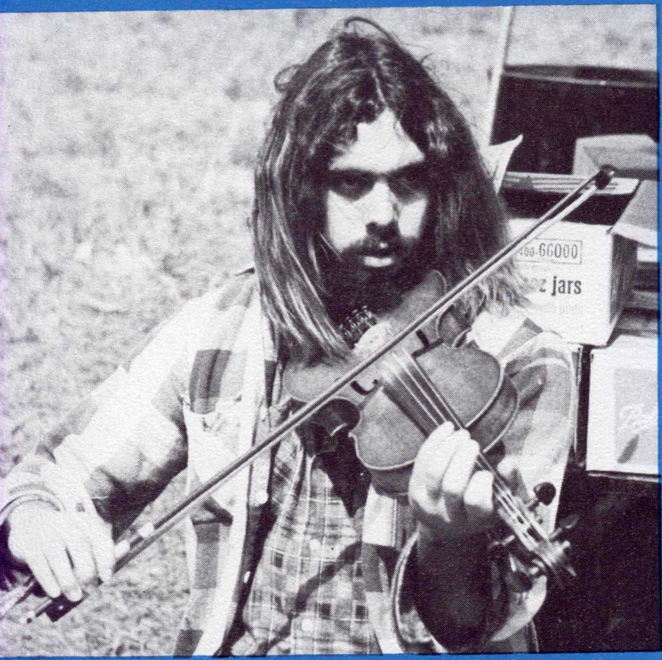

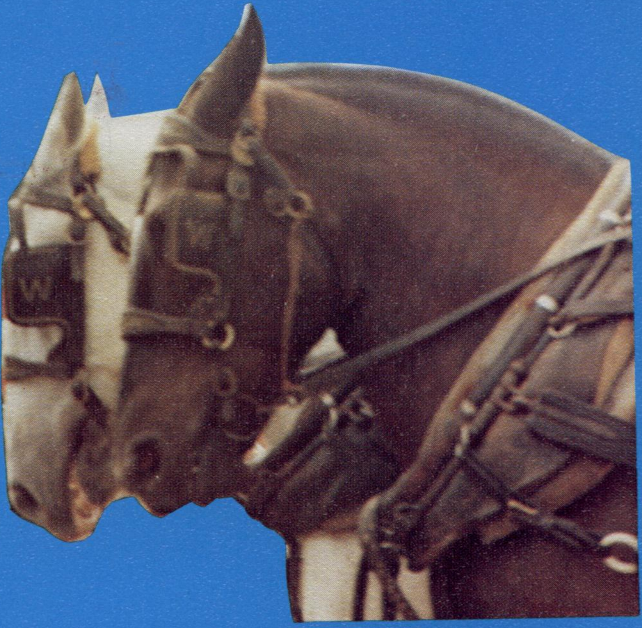

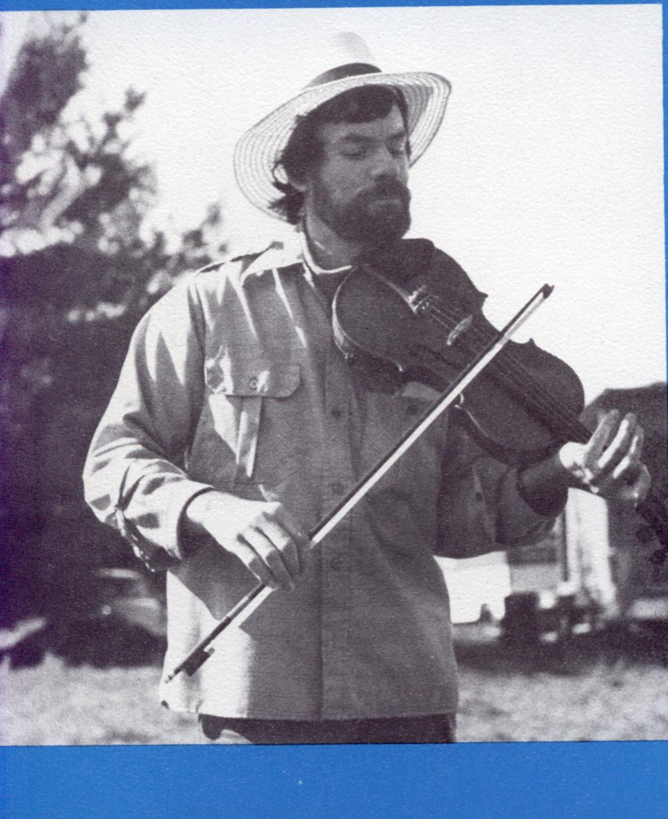

Each year the Mountain Music Festival in Huntersville gives us a taste of our mountain heritage. Dwight Diller, TOP LEFT, is a talented and versatile self-taught musician. He is a local musician who has developed his musical techniques through the instruction and guidance of other local musicians. Sherman Hammons, TOP RIGHT, and Lee Hammons, LOWER LEFT have played a major part in Dwight's learning to play banjo and fiddle. Molly Diller, LOWER RIGHT, also plays banjo.
